Dr. James Newby has had more than his share of grief in the last few years, nothing cutting more deep than the tragic motorcycle accident which took the life of his son, Alec, in October of 2013. Alec McKeehan Newby was just 22 years old.

A couple of years prior to that and within a period of just 15 months, Dr. Newby had also experienced the death of two nephews: Michael Newby and Mason Lewis.

Project H.E.A.L. is an acronym which is taken from a phrase by Dr. Newby "Help and Encouragement After Loss." It is a faith-based, non-denominational and non-profit entity.

Help may come in the form of fiscal encouragement because many families, particularly in the loss of a child, need assistance with funeral expenses. Project H.E.A.L. will also give grief-stricken parents, siblings or other relatives access to grief counseling.

And one of the most important elements to the faith-based ministry is to give dads and moms and brothers and sisters access to a retreat away from the area where they reside. This provides a time where they may heal in solitude and quietness, away from the constant stream of traffic, no matter how well intentioned. There is nothing more devastating to a person than the loss of a child.

"Grief and sadness knit two hearts in closer bonds than happiness ever can; and common sufferings are far stronger than common joys," said French writer, poet, philosopher and patriarch Alphonse de Lamartine.

Bear Trace: Jack Nicklaus- Designed Delight

The second course of the four in The Bear Trace collection to open, Harrison Bay is a true classic and the crown jewel of the entire collection. This Bear Trace is surrounded by both water from the magnificent Chickamauga Lake and heavily-wooded land, making an ideal setting for the course. Harrison Bay stretches from 7,140 yards (championship tees) to just under 5,300 yards (forward tees).

The Bear Trace at Harrison Bay features Bermuda fairways lined with soaring pine and hardwood trees. Although water from Chickamauga Lake creeps into 12 fairways, there is more than sufficient room to reach dry land. Most greens are open in front, which makes the course user-friendly for high-handicap players and allows run-up shots. Fairway and green side bunkers are designed in the traditional Nicklaus fashion and add notable character to the overall integrity and beauty of the course. Like other courses in the collection, the emphasis on playability is clearly evident.

The man for whom the course is named, the Golden Bear himself, quite arguably is the premier designer in the business and certainly is the most prolific. Nicklaus has designed almost 400 courses in 41 countries. At least 70 of those have been ranked in the Top 100 of most golf publications. He also is the man whom many golf aficionados believe is the greatest player in the history of the game.

The Bear Speaks

"Tennessee has a rich golf history and incredible natural beauty. I'm excited about the opportunity to develop a group of truly top-level courses that golfers of all skill levels can experience and enjoy."

- Jack Nicklaus
